

Literature Analysis Resources

- Follow the path: Revere Homepage>SCHOOLS>Revere High School>RHS IRC/Library>Virtual Library>Click link to enter the virtual library
- Click on Gale Virtual Reference Library. All of our subscription databases and eBooks are stored here.
- If you are prompted to enter a username or password for any of the below databases, see the note at the end of this page.

Gale Virtual Reference Library Resources

Gale Student Resources in Context

- Click on the “Student Resources in Context” button (toward the top right)
- Scroll down to the Literature & Arts category
- Click on “View All” to the right of the Literature & Arts category
- If your topic is not listed anywhere on the Literature & Arts page, then type your topic in the search field at the top of the screen.

Gale eBooks

Depending on the literature and author you are researching, you may want to check the eBooks to see if there is anything useful. To access our eBook collection:

- Click on the “GVRL” button (toward the top right)
- You may search the eBook collection for your topic by using the Search bar at the top of the page.

INFOhio Resources

Academic Search Premier, Biography Reference Bank, & Literary Reference Center

- Click on the “INFOhio” button (bottom button on the left)
- Click on “Grades 9-12”
- Click on “Academic Search Premier”
- Above the search field, click on the link “Choose Databases”
- Add a check to “Biography Reference Bank” and to “Literary Reference Center” (keep a check next to Academic Search Premier)
- Click “OK”
- Keep in mind that this database is more extensive so you will need to narrow your searches. For example, the search term “Nathaniel Hawthorne” results in over 1400 sources. Whereas the search terms: Nathaniel Hawthorne AND Scarlett Letter has 11 results.

Refer to below directions if you are prompted to enter a user ID and/or password to access one of the above databases:

- Click on “Sign In” option in upper right-hand corner of the RHS library website. Use your wifi username and password to sign in to the web site.
- If you have signed in successfully, you will see a Passwords for RHS Subscription Databases link appear on the left of the library website. Click on the link for a list of database passwords/user IDs.
