

Snow Day Cancellation/Delay Review

With snow starting to appear in the weather forecast, Revere Local wants to remind parents and students of its snow day delay and cancellation policy.

If the Superintendent makes the decision to call a delay, students will be transported to school two hours later than normal. Afternoon dismissal times remain the same. A delay is meant to keep students safe while roadways are being cleared, while still allowing them to attend school for the majority of the day.

Note: *There would be NO morning kindergarten or preschool on days when a delay is called.

A school day cancellation will be called if road conditions are not expected to improve and/or if the weather forecast predicts continued hazardous conditions. Parents, students and staff will be notified of both delays or cancellations in the same manner, which includes automated phone calls, text messages, the media, our Facebook page (Revere Local Schools), Revere Twitter (@RevereLocal) and Superintendent Matt Montgomery on Twitter (@SuptMontgomery).
